EDUCATIONAL FORUMS

Sponsored By

Dear Teachers, Professors, and Parents,

We have created a unique event in which students and teachers may participate in a Q&A forum at the theatre. All for one affordable price (based on seating), your students will have the opportunity to see the show AND interact with PILGRIM's composer and creator, John Stothers, before the performance. Members of PILGRIM's award-winning Creative Team will also be on hand to answer your students' questions.

This unique forum is available only on the following dates, and space is limited!

FORUM DATES AND TIMES

Friday, March 17, 2006	Forum at 6:00pm, dinner break at 6:45	Show at 8:00pm
Thursday, March 23, 2006	Forum at 6:00pm, dinner break at 6:45	Show at 8:00pm

Later Forum Dates TBD

Tickets to the Educational Forum are an exceptional value. Your students will enjoy both the forum and the show for less than the price of a standard ticket to the show. We invite you to call or email our office to learn more about this exciting opportunity!

Your students will learn first-hand about PILGRIM's innovative theatrics and sophisticated musical score; they will also discover how PILGRIM's story and imagery are influenced by great works of historic Literature and Art.

Loaded with deep cultural imagery and a rich musical score, PILGRIM delivers an epic fable in the tradition of Tolkien, Lewis, and Shakespeare. Often described as a blend of Les Miserables and Cirque du Soleil, PILGRIM is cutting-edge theatre in an entertaining and accessible package.

These forums are targeted toward College Students and High Schoolers interested in music and the arts.

For more information about these events, please call Sean Hanrahan at (323) 962-2703 or send an email to sean@pilgrimLA.com. We eagerly anticipate the opportunity to share the journey of PILGRIM with you and your students. See you at the show!

Sincerely,

Sean P. Hanrahan
